COMMENTS

Have you ever dreamed of living in the House on the Hill? Now is your chance to achieve that goal. This four-bedroom home was built in an era where craftsmen built homes that were meant to last. Raised up by the stone retaining wall, the gray stone façade glistens in the sun giving this home a real sense of presence. The driveway leads you down to the massive below grade 2 car garage (heated and cooled) providing secure parking without impeding on the natural beauty of the yard. The backyard has a large patio that is shaded by several majestic trees. Once inside, you will find a bright and airy main foyer with a sunken living room with a large bay window. The back of the house features a den (with large stone fireplace) that opens to the kitchen/eating area, formal dining room, game room and sunroom. The home features expansive views outside with its large banks of casement windows throughout this impressive home. Come and take a look, homes like this in this section of Hammonton do not come on the market very often. 2,600 sq. ft. Basement with endless possibilities to be finished to a room of your dreams.. Feel free to bring your contractor with you during your showing so they can point out the features that make this home so exceptional.
